Tallo Anthony is one of the recipients of 'Young Achiever Awards 2016' which was recently conferred by Woodpecker International Film Festival (WIFF) for his film 'Eagle Nest Wildlife Sanctuary'. Nominated under student category Anthony's film was among 94 films selected by preview committee. These films were in 14 languages, 13 themes from 34 cities and seven countries. It took three weeks for preview of all entries for final scrutiny.

Anthony, who hails from Arunachal Pradesh, is a member of Green Hub—an NGO based at Tezpur. He has been pursuing his interest in photography and videography while at Green Hub which has been working in equipping those passionate photographers to gain expertise in making films on wildlife, culture, tradition and environment in parts of Northeast region.

Congratulating, Anthony for his achievement, DFO Milo Tasser for Shergaon Division said, "His work being a visual medium is a very efficient method in promoting the activities and efforts of Eagle Nest Wildlife Sanctuary to the rest of the world."

Anthony has worked on identifying genetics, tiger patrolling elephant census as well as adjutant stork, apart from being one of the key editors of green hub. He has also Genesis 4, a production company focusing on conservation along with three of his batch mates from Green Hub and together they are currently working in a film on the 'Bugun Liocichla', a new bird species discovered by Raman Athreya in Eagle Nest Wildlife Sanctuary and raising funds for the cause.
